Dear Richard,

I am responding to your letter of 4th April regarding the planning application for 10 Ashanger Lane, Clothall, SG7 6RQ

I have viewed the application and sought out views from Parishioners within the Parish.

There have been no specific objections raised and I am supportive of the application. The only query that has been raised is relating to the sewage facilities that serve these homes. The query is whether the existing sewage facilities would be adequate were there to be an additional bathroom (and additional person through the additional bedroom being added) as shown in the proposed plans.

The plans are in keeping with the existing dwelling and will bring the home up to modern living standards in terms of space within the dwelling.

Many thanks,

Yours Faithfully,

[redacted]
