

New windows and doors are to be manufactured in engineered oak. The windows shall receive flush casements and trickle vents that are hidden. Metric scale joinery section details of the new windows are as shown in the attached specification.

Glazing bar profile as shown in the attached specification.