- A close-up photograph of a brick wall. The bricks are primarily a reddish-brown color, but many have dark, almost black, horizontal streaks or smudges across them. There are also areas where the surface appears lighter, possibly due to weathering or the application of a specific finish. The mortar joints between the bricks are a light, off-white color, providing a clear contrast to the darker bricks. The overall texture is rough and uneven, characteristic of aged masonry.

19. OAK GARAGE DOOR

A close-up photograph of a textured surface, likely the cover or endpaper of an old book. The texture is characterized by numerous horizontal, wavy lines that create a ribbed or pleated appearance. The color is a light beige or off-white, with subtle variations in tone and some darker, brownish streaks or foxing, particularly towards the bottom. The lighting is even, highlighting the undulating contours of the material.

13. STONE GABLE VENT

20. GREY GARAGE DOOR

A close-up photograph of a textured surface, likely a book cover or endpaper. The texture is characterized by a repeating pattern of horizontal, wavy ridges and grooves, creating a ribbed or pleated appearance. The color is a light beige or cream, with subtle variations in tone due to the lighting and the depth of the ridges. The overall effect is one of a tactile, organic material.

16. FASCIA & SOFFIT PVCu DARK GREY (RAL 7016)

21. FASCIA & SOFFIT PVCu WHITE (RAL 9010)
