ARCHAEOLOGICAL IMPLICATIONS

Thank you for consulting us on the above application.

Further to our comments sent to you on 9 February, the applicant has re-submitted a WSI for archaeological trial trenching.

Regrettably not all of our comments have been addressed so we are still unable to recommend that the WSI is approved.

We have the following comments:

- 2.5.4 there should be discussion of the results by the contractor carrying out the investigations, this has not been done
- There should be contingency the WSI should be clear that for additional trenching if required by this office, this has been amended
- It should be made clear, that this WSI is not sufficient to complete any archaeological requirements of this project; trial trenching, is only the first phase of investigations, that further phases may be required and addendums to this WSI will be submitted for preservation of archaeological remains in situ and/or further mitigation, if required by NHDC/subsequent planning conditions, this has not been clarified
- 2.5.10, 2.5.12 North Herts Museums should agree to receive any archive before this WSI can be approved, this has not been done
- 3.2 we will need brief archaeological c.v's of the onsite supervisor and staff. These can be submitted after this WSI has been approved but it should be stated that fieldwork will not take place until this office has approved them, should Cura

Terrae make any personnel changes, then these will also need to be agreed with this office, this has not been done

- 3.3.1 confirmation should be provided that the specialists listed have experience/knowledge of Hertfordshire and the Eastern Region, this has not been done
- 2.5.17, there should be provision for public engagement should this office feel the results warrant it
- Figures 2 and 3, the green boxes over trenches 7 and 8 should be explained

Therefore, we are unable to recommend that this archaeological WSI is approved, nor that any onsite archaeological works commence.

Please do not hesitate to contact me should you require any further information or clarification.

Yours sincerely,
